Caring Dads

An international evidence-based program offered in Canada, USA, UK, Europe & Australia helping fathers who have used violence to improve their relationships with their children.

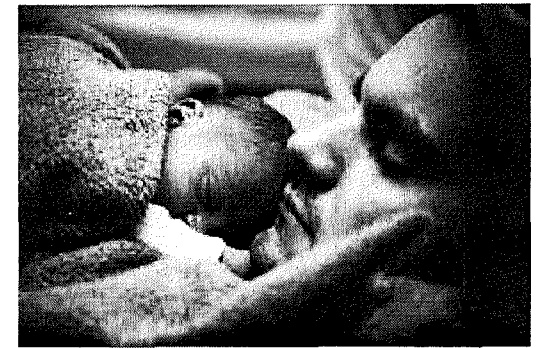

Engaging fathers as partners in keeping their children safe

I am a better father. I have a better understanding of what they need from me rather than what I need from them...

Evaluation impact demonstrates...

- Fewer incidents of domestic violence
- Reduced risks to children
- Decreased parenting stress & level of hostility
- Improved interaction with mens' children
- Sustained improvements in fathers' behaviour & increased feelings of safety and wellbeing in families

Caring Dads: Safer Children, NSPCC, 2016

I had a bad relationship with my child's mother, and Caring Dads helped me understand how important it is for my child to see that both of his parents can get along. I love being able to talk to him about his day and be a bigger part of his everyday life.
